

SPROUTFLIX

General Info

In order to be listed on Sproutflix ,films must be approved for inclusion by our selection committee. There is no fee to submit.

Sproutflix hosts the largest and most diverse assortment of films featuring people with intellectual and developmental disabilities on the marketplace. We have witnessed the power of film to inspire, inform and spark change – and we strive for greater exposure and new audiences for these important films. We offer streams, downloads, and playlists to be purchased and licensed for educational and training use. As the filmmaker you will receive a non-exclusive agreement stating that 50% of all sales of your film will go back to you.

In addition, joining Sproutflix would also make your film part of the Sprout Film Festival, an ongoing, year-round program in which sponsoring organizations around the country select films for their customized Sprout Film Festival. Each time your film is selected you will be notified as to all the festival details.

Submission Guidelines

Sproutflix is dedicated exclusively to distributing and showcasing films related to the field of intellectual and developmental disabilities (IDD). By presenting films of artistry and intellect, we hope to reinforce accurate portrayals of individuals within this community and expose the general public to important issues they face. We look for films that entertain, help breakdown stereotypes and promote a greater acceptance of differences and awareness of similarities.

In order to qualify for consideration entrants must comply with ALL of the following Rules and Eligibility Requirements. Failure to comply with these rules will render a submission ineligible:

- Submissions must feature a subject with an I/DD or be made by a filmmaker with an I/DD. We do not accept films in which an actor without an I/DD portrays a character with an I/DD.
- Applicants must submit an individual application for each project they choose to submit.
- All foreign language film submissions must have English subtitles.
- All lengths and genres are accepted.
- There is no restriction as to when the film was made.
- Submission and acceptance into Sproutflix indicates that Sproutflix has the right to use select images and clips in printed and digital materials.
- All applications must include a screener. Applicants can provide a link to the film or a digital download.

Selection

The selection committee will select and invite films at their discretion. Everyone who submits a film will be contacted via email regarding the committee's decision within 3 weeks of submission.
